Borough Awarded Honorable Mention

Better Homes Committee Cited For Excellence of Campaign.

SERVICE IS COMMENDED

Word was received this week by Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, 208 Essex Avenue, Narberth, that the Narberth Better Homes Committee had been awarded an Honorable Mention for the excellence of its campaign by the executive director of the organization at Washington. Mrs. Mueller was chairman of the Narberth Committee which staged the observance in the borough during the week of April 21 to 27.

The letter to Mrs. Mueller from James Ford, executive director Better Homes in America, said in part: "Your carefully-considered and well-balanced Better Homes program centering around a well-planned demonstration house ranks among our outstanding demonstrations this year. The large attendance at your demonstration is indicative of its success and your ingenious idea of furnishing the house with reconditioned furniture and with furniture made from discarded pieces has resulted in an effective piece of educational work. Your extensive contests and exhibits accompanied by various types of demonstrations have added to the excellence of your program. The school exhibit is distinctive in its character and of special significance and importance.

"Please extend to all members of your committee and to co-operating organizations and individuals our deep appreciation of the important contribution which you have made to the educational work of the National Better Homes Campaign. It is certain that the educational service which you have rendered will have an important and lasting influence upon the welfare of your community and your district."

Rea Personal Estate

Valued at $427,693

A personal estate valued at $427,693.56 was left by Samuel Rea, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, according to an inventory of his will filed at Norristown.

Mr. Rea, who retired in 1925 as ninth president of the Pennsylvania after fifty-four years in its service, died on March 24 of this year. His will, filed for probate on April 1, placed the value of the estate at $200,000 and upward."

The inventory showed the personal estate to include 850 shares of Pennsylvania Railroad stock, valued at $63,750; 375 shares of St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad stock, valued at $35,343.75, and 400 shares of Philadelphia and Camden Ferry Company stock, valued at $27,000.

The smallest holding in railroad stock was three shares of Western New York and Pennsylvania Railway Company, valued at $24.

Household goods, pictures, plate, furniture, books, etc., were appraised at $41,722.45.

Mr. Rea in his will left his share of his home, Waverly Heights, Merion Square, to his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Rea, who with their daughter, Mrs. Ruth Rea Junkin, and granddaughter, Anne Thorpe Rea, daughter of the late George B. Rea, received life interests in almost all of the estate.

Mr. Rea had given certain art treasures to the Pennsylvania Museum in Memorial Hall, and also directed that the institution should receive others after his death.

Warm Days Rare Again

June ended and July commenced with below-normal temperatures, the report of Charles Decker, Main Line weatherman, indicates. Following a week of extremely warm weather, the change was more noticeable and bathing pools and resorts suffered slightly as a result of the cool days. Last Friday was the most unusual day of the week, as both the high mark, 82 degrees, and the low mark, 52 degrees, were reached on that day.

Main Line League

Schedule

Monday, July 8—Hilldale vs. Narberth.

Narberth Wins Both Ends of Doubleheader Downing Ardmore by Score of 7-0 and 8-5

Narberth maintained its fast clip in the Main Line League by letting down Ardmore bump, bump, in a doubleheader at the Borough's Community Playground on Saturday. The first game was a shutout for Howard Graham, diminutive ace of the Narberth pitching ace, 7 to 0 being the result, while the nightcap score was 8-5. In capturing his sixth straight Graham allowed only five well-scattered hits.

Hamilton, Ardmore hurler, held the Narberth sluggers in check until the fourth inning when four runs crossed the plate. Additional runs followed in the fifth, seventh and eighth. Fleck, Narberth veteran, garnered a home run when his mighty drive just eluded the grip of Ardmore's centerfielder.

The second game provided more thrills for the five hundred fans. Walter Masters, Penn's sophomore pitcher, was on the hill for the boroughites. A sensation was created when Ardmore took the lead in the early innings, scoring two runs in the opening inning, and adding a couple more to lead 4 to 2 in the third. Narberth went to work at this point, and with Bob Martin's big bat accounting for a home run, gained the lead for keeps.

Martin was the star at bat for Narberth in the second game with a double, a triple and a homer. After the early innings Masters had the occupants of the cellar position well in hand.

The double win did not give Narberth undisputed leadership in the league since Berwyn also administered a dual lacing to Brookline, though they had a hard job of it in one game, winning 8 to 7.

Greater Bryn Mawr Hospital Will Open Two New Units Next Wednesday, Thursday

An event of more than ordinary interest to residents of Delaware, Montgomery and Chester Counties will be the dedication ceremonies on July 10-11, which will formally mark the opening of the first two units of the Greater Bryn Mawr Hospital, at Bryn Mawr.

The building will be open for inspection by the public on Wednesday from 2 to 6 P. M. and on Thursday from 2 to 8 P. M.

It is estimated that nearly 120,000 persons reside in the immediate territory covered by the hospital. In emergency cases, it is to this hospital that patients would have to be taken, for there are no nearer hospitals of any size east of West Chester; south of Norristown and north of Chester.

The Board of Trustees of the institution, with the cordial co-operation of many of the residents along the Main Line, several years ago adopted the plans which provided for the two units now completed, and the Board also has made arrangements for future enlargements when the demand calls for additional hospital facilities.

In planning for the future, instead of present-day requirements, the trustees acquired sufficient ground to develop a hospital that will ultimately accommodate at least five hundred patients.

The two buildings completed and equipped with the most modern hospital equipment are known as Building A, or the Patients' Building, and Building B, which is to be used as the general Administration Building.

The two units just completed represent the last word in modern fireproof construction. Throughout, the buildings are of mass and reinforced concrete, with steel skeleton frames, and floors of reinforced concrete.

While the two buildings are absolutely separate from each other, they are connected by a most attractive passage way of ample proportions constructed of cast iron and steel sash. This passage way structure, which affords a short and direct connection between the buildings, also provides for enclosed porches on all floors.

The present Maternity Building is also directly connected with the new Patients' Building with a two-story covered enclosed passage way.

While the two new buildings are of fire-proof construction in every sense of the word, further precautions have been introduced by the building of absolutely fire-proof stair towers—two in the Patients' Building and one in the Administration Building.

$311,500 in School Fund

The sum of $311,500 has been raised for the Haverford School endowment fund. That was announced this week at the final meeting of the spring campaign by Effingham B. Morris, Jr., who presided.

Edwin M. Wilson, headmaster at the school, said subscriptions would be sought quietly during the summer and would be taken up again with renewed vigor in the fall so that the objective of $750,000 might be reached.

Must Be Reported

The Health Officer, George B. Supple, passes along the word that failure to report contagious diseases is subject to a fine of $25. A word to the wise.

List Contributors to Fourth of July Fund

The list of contributors to Narberth's Fourth of July celebration, complete to Tuesday night as Our Town's forms closed for the week, follows at the close of this article.

Next week the complete summary will be published and then let the record speak as it will. Is it wrong or untoward to expect an almost unanimous response to this call for a proper tribute to the birth of the nation? Is there some cause or reason which would warrant a rebuke to those who may think that failure to participate is altogether an inexplicable thing?

"Ah," says the man who hurries away, "I never believe in having my name published; I don't believe in letting others know what I do." That may be fair enough where the gracious cause of charity is concerned (and even there the viewpoint is open to question), but it's not a case of charity at all, when contributions are sought for a Fourth of July fund, and there should be no confusion of the issue. However, if there is a real anguish for anonymity that yearning can easily be served, and not a word will be said by the treasurer nor by anyone else about the fat check you send along with the strict provision that, forever and anon, it must be unheralded and unsung.

Eliminating, then, the fear of pitiless publicity, what else have we, outside of the times which are on us, bad enough in spots, goodness knows, but still not quite so bad (if hope has not yet fled) as not to spare a dollar or two for the one annual collection in Narberth where it would seem to be a reasonable thing to expect a donation from every happy household in the blessed borough.

It is hoped that next year's list will be a credit to all of us, as indeed this first one is to those whose names adorn it.

A. Atwater Kent, of Ardmore, has agreed to serve as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Benjamin Franklin Memorial, Inc. That committee plans a Franklin shrine on the Parkway to be the permanent home of Franklin Institute and a museum of industry. It hopes to raise $4,200,000 by next May 31. Announcement was also made that L. H. Kinnard, of Wynnewood, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, would be chairman of the Executive Committee of the Memorial.

A. W. Crawford Buried

Funeral services for Andrew Wright Crawford, secretary of the Philadelphia Art Jury, who fell dead while playing golf at the Merion Cricket Club course last Thursday, were held Monday, with interment in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were E. T. Stotesbury, John Cadwalader, Jr., Roland L. Taylor, John Frederick Lewis, Herbert L. Jaggard, C. Emery McMichael, Joseph Parker Norris, J. Howard Rhoades, Eli Kirk Price and C. C. Zantinger.

Joseph M. Cranston

Bala-Cynwyd coal and building material merchant, who established his business in 1895, when there were only half a dozen homes in the section. He was 87 years old when he died last week.

Pioneer Bala-Cynwyd Merchant Dies at 87; Was Resident 35 Years

Joseph Mitchell Cranston, Bala-Cynwyd pioneer merchant, died Wednesday of last week at his home, 117 Montgomery Avenue, Cynwyd. He was 87 years old.

Testimonials to his upright life were given by his old friends, Luther C. Parsons and Charles E. Hres, at a funeral held 10:30 A. M. Saturday at the late residence. Eloquent tribute also was paid by W. Russell Green, who, with Mr. Hires, is a member of the Merion Friends' Meeting, which Mr. Cranston had frequently attended, although he was a member of the Race Street Meeting in Philadelphia.

Born April 20, 1842, near Wilmington, Delaware, Mr. Cranston did not come to Cynwyd until 1895. Before then he had been engaged in the feed business for a number of years, at Fifty-fifth Street and Lancaster Avenue, Philadelphia. In Cynwyd he opened a feed, coal and building material establishment on Bala Avenue near the Cynwyd Station, when there were only half a dozen houses in the neighborhood.

At that time he lived in a house which stood at the corner of Bala and Montgomery Avenues, where John R. K. Scott's apartments now stand. The house was since moved to a nearby spot a block southeast, where it now stands.

In 1903 a fire destroyed the large feed building, where a combination feed for horses was manufactured. Mr. Cranston continued in the coal and building material business, however, until March 1, 1929, when it was sold to J. J. Skelton, Jr.

Mr. Cranston had not taken in recent years an active part in community life, but he was a member of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club and the Union Fire Association of Cynwyd.

He is survived by his widow, two sisters, Mrs. E. C. Reese, Camden, and Mrs. George Sheppard, Wilmington; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Hodges, and their daughter—his granddaughter—Miss Elizabeth Hodges, of Cynwyd.

Following the funeral, interment was made in Friends' Burying Ground, West Chester.

Award Contract

The Suburban Construction Company of Ardmore was the successful bidder on the street work for the borough of Narberth. Their bid, accepted at a special meeting of Council last Thursday night for the paving of Wynnewood Court, Grove Place, Rockland Road from Narberth Avenue to the railroad, and Haverford Avenue from Essex to Conway, was $23,640.50. They are also laying the curb on the west side of Wynnewood Road under contract for the borough.

Time Almost Up

Sidewalk repairs, on which notices were served some weeks ago, will become delinquent after July 15, according to word received from the Superintendent of Public Works. Property owners who have not yet had these minor repairs attended to may avoid paying the 10 per cent. penalty by immediate attention to them.

Seek More Lights in Business Section

Board of Trade Sponsors Plan to Provide Increased Illumination.

WILL AID COMMUNITY

A plan for better illumination of the business district was approved by the Narberth Board of Trade at its meeting Monday noon at the Arcadia Restaurant.

The plan, presented by Ralph S. Dunne, chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Board, calls for twenty-four additional lighting fixtures along Haverford Avenue and on the three sides of the business section, Essex, Forest and Narberth Avenues. It will be presented to Council by Mr. Dunne with the Board of Trade's recommendation that the lights be installed for the general betterment of the community.

At present there are only seven lighting fixtures in the business section, all of which are along Haverford Avenue. The plan, as approved by the Board, would call for two new lights at the corner of Narberth and Haverford, one on the south side of Haverford between the station corner and the middle of the block, two on the north side of Haverford between Narberth and Forest, new fixtures at the corners of Haverford and Forest and at Haverford and Essex.

On the side streets the plans call for four on Essex Avenue, two on each side of the street, the same number on Forest Avenue, and eight on Narberth Avenue, four on each side of Haverford.

A recommendation was also passed requesting Council to modify the ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks in the borough so as to allow the sale of caps and cap pistols.

Rotarians Honor Croyle, Retiring Club President

No speechmaking was on the program of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at Tuesday's meeting. Instead the members were led on a mysterious expedition by William S. Howard.

A cavalcade of motor cars left the Cynwyd Club at 1:00, winding their way through Cynwyd to West Manayunk, where the route led into a secluded spot in the hills. Here they found the foundations of a stone house—the new home of Guy Croyle.

The scaffolding led to a carved stone, with trowel and mortar. The stage, in fact, was set for a first-class corner-stone laying, for this was the plan. Members of the club had secretly prepared the stone as a fitting gift to the retiring president of the local Rotarians.

The new president, W. Russell Green, conducted the ceremonies, with Alvin E. Shull's ubiquitous camera recording the event. A past president's pin was also presented to Mr. Croyle.

To Hold Picnic

An all-day picnic will be held by the Main Line Tailors and Cleaners' Association on Wednesday, July 24, at Lenape Park, Westchester. It will include a parade and other features which enlivened this body's outing last year. All members of the association participating will close their establishments all day. The affair is in charge of the Board of Directors of the association.

Still Coming In

Additional contributions have been received by the Narberth Baseball Club since the last were published from the following: Edward S. Haws, Eddie Town, H. T. Smedley and Charles Smith.

They're Open Today

The School and Community Playgrounds will open today (Friday) for supervised play under the new director of physical education and recreation, Allan B. Wetherall, and his two assistants. The school playground has been equipped with the best of playground equipment and the Community Playground has been refurbished. Mr. Wetherall, who is a graduate of Springfield College, was hired by the school authorities at a good salary for an all-year round position. He has a fine record and his services should be utilized by all mothers who have children at home this summer.

Help the Boys

Appeals for funds from one group or another may seem to be flying thick and fast. The following from a supporter of the Narberth Junior Baseball Club deserves attention. Remember a dollar will neither make nor break you.

"These boys play at home every Thursday evening. Come out and see them in action. They need your support. In the next few days they will be seen trying to collect money. If they come to you do not turn them down. They need equipment to run the ball club; they must have balls, bats, suits, etc. They ran a movie benefit some time ago and made $31, but they need more. Please try and help if you are interested in young boys. This is the only way they have to be ball players—by starting in young."

Patriotic Prestige

The first list of contributors to the Fourth of July fund, published elsewhere in Our Town, affords satisfactory evidence of a proper concept of patriotic pride and community co-operation.

Next week the final list will be published and in the meantime we can all be happy that there has been no more than a hint of that "superior sophistication" which is always apt to describe as blatant babble anything which is calculated to give a greater and more effective spirit to American life and endeavor.

The nation's birthday always affords an opportunity for citizens of all creeds and politics to signal to each other, by the contribution of a little cash, that they are eye-to-eye on certain basic things, and that fact, after all, is much more important than the flare of fireworks, which burns the money up. And if it means a little sacrifice to make a donation in this rather parlous year so much more credit is your due, and so much more will your act correspond with that service which was rendered hereabouts 150 years ago.

Letter to Editor

Who Is This Uncle Cy?

To the Editor of Our Town:
I note that your "Uncle Cy" has been using the columns of your esteemed paper in an effort to knock the props from under the Eighteenth Amendment and establish in its place the Canadian system of liquor control. Now, under the Canadian system liquor is bought by the Government from the brewers and distillers and sold in Government stores in original packages to be taken home and consumed. It is nothing more than fair to assume that your "Uncle Cy" would be glad to have a store of that kind established on the Main Line. Possibly he would like to have the job of managing it.

But seriously, Mr. Editor, the Canadian system is so miserably discredited by its own sponsors that your "Uncle Cy" seems belated in his recommendation. It is difficult to tell whether the joke is on the Canadian system or on "Uncle Cy." What are the facts? The British Columbia Liquor Board recently said: "As much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in the Government stores." The Alberta Liquor Board said: "Our greatest problem is moonshine." The Saskatchewan Liquor Board has recently stated: "Bootlegging increased 111 per cent in the first year." The Montreal Star recently stated: "Drunkenness among women has increased 53 per cent."

Does the Canadian system get rid of hard liquor and bootleggers by providing for the sale of light wine and beer? The British Columbia Liquor Board says that after they opened the beer parlors the sale of hard liquor increased 50 per cent.

How about revenue? The debt of British Columbia when it adopted the present system was $34,000,000. The gross debt today is $104,000,000, and nothing worth while in the way of public improvement.

"Uncle Cy" thinks liquor would promote the safety of the people. For example, there is one auto fatality for every 1050 cars in America. In England the proportion of cars as to population is very small, and yet there is one auto fatality for every 120 cars. In other words, the mortality rate in England is about nine times as great as that in America. England has plenty of saloons and an abundance of booze. "Uncle Cy" wants the road made safe and says he would lock up every drunken driver for thirty days or a year. If we had the old saloon or even the Government store we should have so many drunken drivers that there would not be enough sober fellows like your "Uncle Cy" to keep the jails.

Now, Mr. Editor, permit me to ask a question. If your "Uncle Cy" thinks that a Government store for the sale of liquor would be a good thing for this section, and that the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would be a good thing for the whole country, why does he need to make his attack on prohibition and his plea for booze under a pen name? Why in the world does he follow the example of the bootlegger and try to hide his identity and try to cover up his tracks? If he is pleading for a worthy cause then it deserves to have his name signed openly and frankly to the stuff he writes. We do not propose that the Eighteenth Amendment shall be broken down and destroyed by any whispering campaign of propaganda, by booze advocates who have not enough courage to come into the open and show their faces.

"Uncle Cy" has a perfect right to his opinion on this question of prohibition, and I see no reason why your paper should not give him reasonable opportunity to state his case. But I respectfully suggest that hereafter when he opens up his gas batteries in an effort to poison the community with his bunk he ought at least be required to sign his right name.

HARRY M. CHALFANT.

Editor's Note: "Uncle Cy" is not using a pen name in order to propagate gas attacks on prohibition. He has conducted his column for two years in Our Town's brother paper, The Main Line, and his services have been procured for Our Town at the suggestion of a number of our readers. His column, while often controversial, will cover many different subjects, and our readers are invited to spar with his ideas at any time.

The FIRESIDE

By E. E. E.

News of departures to seashore and mountain resorts fill the columns of the day's news, with bridge parties and other forms of activities for the stay-at-homes running a close second. It would be impossible to mention all those who have gone away, so we'll note only those whose trips have come to our attention.

To the New Jersey resorts go a great many local people. Ocean City, especially, is popular this year as in the past. Mrs. Frank Nelms, of 5 Shirley Road, is down there and so is Mrs. Ralph S. Dunne with her young daughter, Dorothy, who has a cottage there and entertains frequently. The Richard L. Millers, of 11 Shirley Road, and R. E. Keighton, of 216 Avon Road, are Ocean City devotees.

Late June Weddings.
The marriage of Miss Alice V. Dukat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dukat, of Rochester, N. Y., to Mr. David J. Vanderpoel, son of Mrs. J. H. Vanderpoel, of 21 Narbrook Park, took place Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Old St. David's Church, Radnor, with the pastor, Dr. McBee, officiating. Mr. Vanderpoel and his bride are visiting her parents in Rochester and expect to make their home in Narberth upon their return.

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Collings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collings, of Mount Carmel, and Mr. Ralph Howenstein, son of Mr. J. T. Howenstein, of Narberth, took place at 1 o'clock on Saturday in the Methodist Church, Mount Carmel.

Return from Trip.
Mr. and Mrs. George A. Purring have returned from their wedding trip to Atlantic City and are now at home at Montgomery Avenue, Narberth.

Mrs. Purring before her marriage was Miss E. Fern Reger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reger. Their marriage took place June 22 at 4 o'clock in the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church, with the pastor, Rev. Samuel MacAdams, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a white silk ensemble, with a white felt hat, and white slippers and stockings. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Mrs. Ernest Purring, Jr., who wore a pale yellow silk ensemble, and by Mrs. Joseph E. Boyd, sister of the groom, who wore a pink ensemble. Both attendants wore hats to match their dresses, and carried bouquets of roses and spring flowers.

Mr. Ernest Purring, Jr., and Mr. Alexander Purring completed the bridal party. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Purring, of 533 Gordon Avenue, Narberth.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

A Communication!

At last another communication, just when I was about to believe that no one was reading the column. This one is from a gentleman who steals quietly from public gaze by diffidently addressing the editor thus: "You may have no use for the enclosed, which I have struck off in a semi-serious mood. On the other hand, you may use it to 'start something.' Or perhaps it may offer some fodder for 'Uncle Cy.' In any case—let the author remain anonymous."

The Bridge of Society
By FABER

As an interested observer of the human scene and a more or less active participant therein, for I have many years the present writer has been both amused and angered by what he has seen and at times helped forward. The anger has often passed away before the amusement has departed. This, no doubt, can be attributed to the fact that human beings are more often simply amusing rather than deliberately irritating.

In the mood of laughter at times and at other times in the temper of an angry god, he has contemplated the "bridge" of society—the game played with cards which seems to afford the most of our modern society with an easy escape from boredom into something else. That it has not collapsed like the Bridge of San Luis Rey under the multitudinous tread of the pilgrims nor fallen like the walls of Jericho at the sound of the shouting of its devotees is one of the wonders of the world.

Seriously, in his infrequent moments of release from real duties, he has undertaken the role of sleuth in a vain effort to discover what it is which makes the game so entrancing—not any game, but this one now under the microscope. Till today the search has been as unrewarding as the hunt for water in the sandy desert. Now at last he has an indication of an end to the search. There are traces of pay dirt to be seen. Like any childish explorer he is anxious to share his discovery with a waiting world.

In a popular magazine one who knows the game writes:

"Let us, rather, tell the truth, and the whole truth, that underlies the practice of modern card playing. Card playing in social gatherings (which is the only place where I am now considering it) is based on the tacit assumption that out of ten persons asked to a dinner or an evening at least four will be individuals so near the line of total idiocy that they cannot be kept awake unless they are given something to do with their fingers. They cannot talk, they cannot banter within the limits of propriety (or, nowadays, outside of it), they cannot enjoy friendly silence in front of a fireplace, and they cannot listen to music. They are given playing cards as babies are given rattles, and as prisoners are given hemp."

Is this true? If so, gentle reader, it will remove a great load from the mind of this inquirer. It may not be very complimentary to one's friends to regard them as idiots, but it is a little better than to hold them gamblers. To this latter shameful conclusion I have been tempted to come, after hearing ordinarily serene ladies inquire frantically after a game. Who won the prize? And my blood yet runs cold from the icy stare which fell upon my inquiring visage when I innocently asked one of the selfsame ladies whether the lure of the game was not in the prize. No, they are not gamblers, just idiots or at least vacant-minded followers of the crowd.

Certainly some will arise to deny all this. But what have they to offer in its place? Speak up now and gladden the editor's heart. He likes nothing better than a good-humored war. And have I not been good humored? I have only called those who use the "bridge" of society as an escape from something to—what? "Idiots." Could anything show a better humor?

All this may seem too trivial to notice, but life is in the main made up of trivial things. We will answer triviality with sound sense?

Cynwyd Club received its first defeat of the season Saturday at the Idle Hour courts when the home team won, five matches to four, in the Division "A" Middle States tennis competition. Cynwyd still has an imposing first place percentage of .825 against .688 for Idle Hour, runner-up.

The U. S. G. A. has awarded the 1930 amateur golf championship matches to the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford. The dates will be announced later.

Baker set a Main Line League record when he blasted out eight straight hits in the double victory of Berwyn over Brookline Saturday at Villanova. 8 to 7 and 6 to 4. Jimmy Noblitt, youthful Berwyn twirler, was hit rather hard in the opening fray, but managed to keep Brookline from overcoming Berwyn's early lead.

Villanova Men
Begin Indian WorkCharles J. Rhoads and J. Henry
Scattergood Head Bureau
at Washington.

Two prominent Main Line residents on Monday of this week gave up many of the active duties they have been carrying on in banking and educational affairs to take up headquarters in Washington, where they will direct the Government's Indian welfare activities. The men are Charles J. Rhoads and J. Henry Scattergood, both of Villanova and both of whom have long been active in banking and business.

President Hoover recently appointed Mr. Rhoads to the office of Commissioner of Indian Affairs and named Mr. Scattergood as his assistant. Mr. Rhoads has been interested for many years in advancing the interests of the Indians in this country, and Mr. Scattergood, during the World War period and since, has been active in welfare work.

Mr. Rhoads, who is 57 years old, started his banking career with the Girard Trust Company immediately after leaving college and eventually became a vice president of that institution. Later he was president of the Central National Bank. He was the first governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, being appointed in 1914 and serving for four years.

He then became a member of the investment banking firm of Brown Brothers & Co. He is a member of the Board of Managers of the Girard Trust Company and of the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society, a director of the Provident Trust Company and the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, and is closely associated with the activities of a number of industrial concerns.

Announcement was made with regret by Brown Brothers & Co. that Mr. Rhoads had withdrawn from partnership in the firm to engage in work for the Government.

Mr. Scattergood, a former member of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania, is a director of the First National Bank, the American Pulley Company, the United Dyewood Corporation and the American Dyewood Company and is treasurer and trustee of Haverford College and treasurer and trustee of Bryn Mawr College.

As administrator of the affairs of the Indian Bureau, the two men will have direct charge of looking after more than 350,000 Indians in the United States. The Indians have upward of $100,000,000 in cash and developed resources and untold millions of dollars in undeveloped resources. There are more than 5000 employees in the bureau.

Gladwyne Mill Robbery
Revealed by Arrest

Solution of a $2000 wool robbery was claimed this week by County Detective John B. Stevenson and Detective George Campbell, of Phoenixville, after the arrest of Edward M. Boyle, 32, of 4669 Umbria Street, Philadelphia. Boyle is in Montgomery County Prison awaiting further hearing before Magistrate Kehoe on a charge of larceny.

Boyle's arrest by Detectives Stevenson and Campbell disclosed the looting of the hosiery mill of Thomas Barker & Son, Gladwyne, in January.

A truck was backed up to the rear of the mill at night, said Detective Stevenson today, and two men entered the place and loaded a cargo of several hundred pounds of wool aboard, then drove off.

Sale of the wool attracted attention. Detective Stevenson said, and led to the investigation that resulted in the arrest yesterday afternoon in Philadelphia of Boyle.

"Fourth" Orator

Fletcher W. Stites, Narberth attorney and former State Senator, who delivered the Independence Day address at Wednesday's luncheon of the Ardmore Rotary Club.

This station has been in operation just six years and in that time 2950 birds of 59 species have been banded. 1750 having previously been banded have again been trapped, making the total number of birds handled 4710.

A few years ago the Biological Survey, having in mind that birds that existed in enormous quantities 100 years ago are now extinct; that in comparatively recent years other valuable species have been almost exterminated by "plume hunters," men who shot down the adult birds to secure the valuable plumes to sell to the milliners, leaving the young to starve in the nest, and also that other birds are decreasing in numbers by reason of changing physical condition of the country, such as cutting down the forests, draining the swamp areas, etc., decided that every step possible must be taken to save, preserve and increase the number of our birds. In order to act intelligently, much information regarding bird life was necessary. This could be secured by trapping and marking the individual bird, so it could be subsequently identified wherever found. It was necessary to secure qualified persons who could do this work. Today there are about 1600 persons all over the United States who are specially licensed by the Biological Survey to carry on this work. To the leg of each bird a tiny aluminum band, bearing a serial number, is attached. A report of this number, with the name of the bird, age and sex, with special note of any unusual condition of plumage, etc., as well as name of operator and station, is forwarded to the Biological Survey, where it is filed away in a card index. When the bird is subsequently trapped at any other station, or at the station where it was originally banded, the information is sent to Washington, where it is recorded on the card of that particular bird. In this way a history of the individual bird is developed.

The work has been in progress so long that many interesting and valuable returns are now coming in. Birds banded in the United States have been reported from Europe, Africa, South and Central America and the West Indies. Information of much value is gradually being accumulated.

At the local station a number of banded birds return each summer to rear their young, stay awhile, then leave for the Southland for the winter months. Others living in the far North in the summer come here for the winter months. One of the most interesting instances of the latter group of birds is the tree sparrow, No. 178024. This bird returned to the local station last winter for the fourth consecutive year and has been trapped at intervals from early in January to about April 1 of each year. The tree sparrow is known to nest in Labrador and Northern Canada, as far north as the Arctic Circle.

In November, 1927, a junco, coming from the North with others, was banded with No. A-61943. It went on South. In April of the following year word came from Washington that this bird had been trapped at Jamestown, North Dakota. Other birds banded here in the summer have been reported in the winter from various points in Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina.

Several birds have been found dead or killed by cats in Paoli and vicinity, after they have been trapped and banded. Anyone finding a dead bird is requested to look and see if there is a band on its leg; if so, remove it and forward, with name of sender, date and location where found, to the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C., or it may be handed to H. D. McCann, who will take care of it.

Titled Fliers Visit Friends in Ardmore

Viscount and Viscountess De Sibour Tour World in Small Plane.

Viscount and Viscountess Jacques de Sibour arrived at Patco Field, Norristown, Saturday afternoon, to spend the last few days of their American visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. S. White, 3d, of Llanfair Road, Ardmore. The couple landed in their tiny Moth plane that has carried them almost around the world. Yesterday the titled fliers had their plane crated and sailed for home on the DeGrasse.

The Viscount and Viscountess, who are the son-in-law and daughter of H. Gordon Selfridge, American-born owner of London's great department store, started their air tour from London last September. In their little plane they went by easy stages along the Mediterranean, through Persia, India, Siam and to Indo-China.

NASH '400'

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

This is the Sedan you will buy, if you Compare in the $900 Field

WE will not need to urge you to buy the Nash '400' Standard Six Sedan if you only compare it to other Sedans in the $900 field.

First of all, it is a Nash, built in the traditional Nash manner, with precision workmanship in every part.

And second, it is a Nash '400', and that means something in today's line-up of motor cars.

It means more powerful, more durable, more enjoyable motor performance. The engine in this sedan is a new high compression type with 7 bearings instead of 3 or 4, with aluminum alloy (Invar strut) pistons instead of cast iron pistons, and with full pressure lubrication to every single bearing point. Even the connecting rods in this Nash engine are rifle drilled, to supply oil under pressure up to the wrist pin bearings.

Other '400' features which this car brings to you are the world's easiest steering—a luxury and refinement of interior decoration far beyond expectation at its price—size and capacity for five full grown passengers—riding ease attained by alloy steel springs individually designed for its size and weight, plus outboard mounted, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

And finally, no extra charge for bumpers, front and rear, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, spare tire lock and tire cover. There's nothing except a spare tire to buy—none of these other items, customarily charged for as 'extras' at retail prices, to pay for, when you buy the Nash '400'!

Price Range (f. o. b. factory) of 23 Nash '400' Models, $885 to $2190 including Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, Victoria and Sedan Models

Scout Notes

Fifteen troops, winners of contests held by over 200 Boy Scout troops in Delaware and Montgomery Counties, competed last Friday and Saturday in the annual bi-county camping contest, which was held on the William Ellis estate, Bryn Mawr. Ashbourne Troop, No. 1, was first, and North Wales Troop was second.

Tonight the Main Line Court of Honor is expected to award fifty Merit Awards at the Ardmore Presbyterian Church.

The Wynnewood Troop, twenty-five strong, will take a fishing trip to Tuckerton, N. J., tomorrow, accompanied by Acting Scoutmaster Jack Foster and fathers of many of the boys.

Be COOL and CLEAN this Summer

Summer clothes are usually of lighter shades and for that reason require more frequent cleaning if the wearer would look clean as well as cool.

Examine our materials for summer suits,—flannels, palm beaches, etc., and remember our tropical suits are made to fit as perfectly as winter garments.
